

Learn from the comfort of your home: Online classes offer convenience and flexibility at CVCC

Online courses can be the answer to your need for additional education. They can also provide enough know-how to approach a personal project or a new job assignment. Cuyahoga Valley Career Center's Adult Education department introduced instructor-facilitated online courses this past July.

"Learn from the comfort of your home, at your convenience, on your schedule, no transportation required," noted Ken Hudiak, coordinator of the Career Center's online programs. Online courses allow students to get their instruction and complete their coursework 24-7, Hudiak added.

CVCC partners with Ed2Go, a company that develops the online curriculum for the course offerings. All of the courses are highly interactive and are taught by expert instructors, many of whom are nationally known.

The non-credit education is great for workers who need a boost in software know-how or perfect for the job-seeker who has skills they are looking to transition or apply to a new career field.

Courses start the third Wednesday of the month and run for six weeks. Access is easy through the internet site www.ed2go.com/cvccworks.

Check out the complete listing of more than 200 courses which are available through this website.
